THE FACULTY OF LAW OF UNIVERSITAS HASANUDDIN DISCUSSED CHALLENGES OF MULTILATERAL COOPERATION WITH THREE INDONESIAN AMBASSADORS

The Faculty of Law (FH) Hasanuddin University (Unhas) held a webinar entitled "Ambassador Session" under the theme "Challenges of Multilateral Cooperation During the Covid-19 Pandemic". The activity as part of the 69th Anniversary of the Faculty of Law Unhas was conducted, starting at 1:00 p.m., virtually through the zoom meeting application, Tuesday (16/03).

H.E Hamid Awaluddin (Indonesian Ambassador to the Russian Federation and Belarus for the 2008-2011 Period), H.E. Dr. (Hc) Lutfi Rauf, MA (Indonesian Ambassador to Egypt) and H.E. Tri Tharyat, S.H., LL.M (Indonesian Ambassador to Kuwait) attended the meeting as speakers. The activity was officially opened by the Deputy Dean for Planning, Finance and Resources, Dr. Syamsuddin Muchtar, SH., MH. In his introduction, he explained that the theme of this webinar was chosen under the consideration that multilateral cooperation has an important role for the common interest.

Syamsuddin added that the new problem of the Covid-19 pandemic spreading in various countries has had an impact on all aspects of life.

Through this webinar, it is hoped that it can become a forum to discuss the challenges of Indonesia's diplomacy during a pandemic, and diplomatic steps in dealing with pandemic issues while maintaining good relations with other countries.

H.E. Dr. (Hc) Lutfi Rauf, MA, as the Indonesian Ambassador to Egypt explained his views on "Challenges of Indonesian Diplomacy in Overcoming the Covid-19 Pandemic". He said that Covid-19 has had a major impact on various global life orders. Since the pandemic began, the country has experienced a global economic recession, down 4.4% in 2020 and the worst since the economic depression of the 1930s (IMF).

Lutfi added that the pandemic has a dominant effect on social, economic and financial aspects. Therefore, in dealing with the impact of the pandemic, multilateral cooperation is needed in accordance with the WHO platform. In Egypt, 35 Indonesian citizens have recovered and 8 people are still being treated because of Covid-19.

"As an effort to mitigate the spread of Covid-19 among Egyptian citizens, the Indonesian Embassy in Cairo strengthens the service to respond to Covid-19 increases Indonesian citizens' understanding of the ways and importance of health protocols," Lutfi explained. Another speaker, H.E Hamid Awaluddin, said that Covid-19 is in a complex position of interdependence which does not only speak in the context of strength, but rather how to encourage and seek human safety and solve problems.

UNHAS HELD A WEBINAR SERIES DISCUSSING THE IMPACTS OF COVID-19 PANDEMIC TO WOMEN

UNHAS through the Center of Excellence for Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Science (CEISS) in collaboration with the Partnership for Australia-Indonesia Research (PAIR) held a webinar series on the heading issue "Covid-19: Crisis with Women's Face". It took place from 15.30 to 17.30 WITA virtually by way of zoom meeting application, Monday (29/03).

This webinar was officially opened by the Dean of the Unhas Postgraduate School, Prof. Jamaluddin Jompa, Ph.D. In his remarks, he said that gender issues are part of an interdisciplinary way of looking at problems and preparing solutions in a comprehensive manner.

Resource persons presented were Rosalia Sciortino Sumaryono (Associate Professor at the Institute for Population and Social Research, Mahidol University, Thailand), Ema Husain (activist for women's rights) and Sudirman Nasir (Chair of CEISS and Lecturer at FKM Unhas).

Rosalia Sciortino as the first speaker delivered material on an issue of "Gender Dimensions of the Covid-19 Pandemic in Southeast Asia". According to her, Covid-19 is not only related to the aspect of medical or epidemic problem, but also it shows a system failure at the environmental, economic and gender equality levels. However, since the pandemic occurs, the inequality has become more exacerbated. One of the impacts is that a number of women lose their jobs. Rosalia added that in facing gender inequality, special protection and an adequate social change are highly required for women, especially in the informal sector, as well as a government program that is able to provide assistance to women and children.

Another perspective was also shared by Ema Husain regarding "The Face of Women in the Covid-19 Period" arguing that women have already encountered numerous problems, and it becomes even worse during the pandemic. In Indonesia, when talking about women, she always uses the Principle of Human Rights & Women's Rights (HAP). Pursuant to her perspective, the Covid-19 handling scheme has not yet been responsive to women, children, disabilities and the elderly. Since the pandemic, the stay-at-home policy has exposed women to difficult situations and restricted their movement. Pandemics do not only threaten health, but there are also problems that affect women, both directly and indirectly.
