UNIVERSITAS HASANUDDIN ACCEPTS INBOUND INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, PART OF THE WORLD CLASS UNIVERSITY PROGRAMS

The International Office of Universitas Hasanuddin (KUI Unhas) accepts inbound international students from three countries, namely Malaysia, Timor Leste, and Kyrgyzstan.

According to the Head of KUI Unhas, Karmila Mokoginta, S.S., M.A., the presence of these inbound students is part of the World Class University's program in which collaborates with other 12 universities in Indonesia that have international students with similar programs, and they will attend some learning processes at Unhas for two weeks starting from Monday (8/11) to Saturday (20/11).

This program started the process by informing other universities that received WCU funds to send their international students to study at Unhas.

However, Karmila said that it required a relatively long administrative process to directly bring international students from their countries to Indonesia due to the Covid-19 pandemic, one of which was the vaccination requirement.

Three international students have already been at Unhas attending learning processes carried out by following the established policies in which some of the courses are conducted online, and some others, especially the courses of field practice, are held offline while still adhering to the Covid-19 protocol.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF UNIVERSITAS HASANUDDIN HELD AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE WOSQUAL 2021

The 3rd International Conference on Women and Societal Perspective on Quality of Life (WOSQUAL) 2021 was held online on Friday 12-13 November 2021. This conference is organized by The Graduate School of Universitas Hasanuddin.

Keynote speakers include Professor Dr. Patcharee Lertrit, MD (Mahidol University, Thailand), Prof. Dr. Nik Hazlina Nik Hussain (Universiti Sains Malaysia), Assoc. Prof. Dr. Mas Rina Wati Binti Hj Abdul Hamid (Brunei Darussalam, University) and Kusriani S. Kadar, S.Kp., MN., Ph.D. (Universitas Hasanuddin).

Prof. Dr. Ir. Jamaluddin Jompa, M.Sc., the Dean of the Graduate School, explained that the WOSQUAL was very strategic to discuss the role of women from various perspectives. The quality of life of women determines the quality of life of a nation's generation. Multiple factors, such as bio-psycho-social-spiritual, education, recreation, and leisure time to social ownership, are very influential.

"The conference can improve the understanding and insight about the important role of women in contributing to the development of Indonesia in the future. The role of women has a strategic position to accomplish those goals," explained Prof. Jamal.

Topics covered in this conference included: Health Literacy and Pregnancy which was delivered by Dr. Kusriani, and "Women and Cancer: The Brunei Perspective" which was delivered by Prof. Dr. Mas Rina.

Other topics were also available in this conference, such as women and Covid-19, maternal, newborn, and child health, adolescent and reproductive health, nutrition and quality of life, work and women, infectious diseases related to women, and sex and fertility.

Selected papers will be reviewed and be published in the International Journal and Conference Proceeding Indexed by Scopus.

The conference was officially opened by Prof. dr. Muh. Nasrum Massi, Ph.D., the Vice-Rector for Research, Innovation, and Partnership. The WOSQUAL 2021 was attended by approximately 300 presenters.

FACULTY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE OF UNHAS HELD AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ICASST 2021 DISCUSSING SUSTAINABLE LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION

Faculty of Animal Science of Universitas Hasanuddin (Unhas) conducted a virtual conference entitled "The 4th International Conference of Animal Science and Technology (ICASST)" under the theme "Sustainability Animal Agriculture Production for Green Tropical environment". The conference was conducted virtually using the zoom meeting application and live streaming on the Youtube channel of the animal science faculty on Tuesday (09/11).

Unhas invited several speakers from various countries, namely: Prof. Min Du (Washington State University, USA), Prof. Maynor Alberto Vargas-Vargas (Universidad Técnica Nacional, Costa Rica), Prof. Hideyuki MANNEN (Kobe University, Japan), Prof. Dr. Ir. Syamsuddin Hasan, M.Sc (Universitas Hasanuddin, Indonesia), Prof Muhammad Rizal Martua DAMANIK, DVM, MRepSc, Ph.D (IPB University, Indonesia), and Dr. Gokarna Gautam (Agriculture and Forestry University (AFU), Nepal).

Dr. Muhammad Ihsan Andi Dagong, S.Pt., M.Si., the committee chairman, explained that the 4th ICASST continued to be conducted online as before. The event was participated by participants from 61 different universities worldwide, with a total of 237 articles.

As one of the speakers, Prof. Maynor Alberto Vargas explained the "Effect of Lanthanide ions stresses on Lactic Acid Fermentation Performance of Streptococcus Thermophilus during Milk Processing".

"It was found that the inhibitory effect is slightly different, depending on the lanthanide element, indicating Pr, Yb and Gd are the strongest, and Er, Nd, and Tm are the weakest effects. No relationship was found between the atomic elements of lanthanide and the inhibitory effect," explained Prof. Maynor.

AUN-QA ASSESSORS FROM FOUR COUNTRIES VISITED FOUR STUDY PROGRAMS OF UNHAS

ASEAN University Network-Quality Assurance (AUN-QA) conducted the 247th AUN-QA program assessment regarding assessing the four study programs from three faculties at Universitas Hasanuddin.

Commencing the event, the Rector of Unhas, Prof. Dr. Dwia Aries Tina Pulubuhu, MA., expressed her pleasure in this assessment program organized by AUN-QA. Although the implementation is virtual, she believes that AUN-QA assessors have established great procedures for online assessments. Thus, the quality of the online assessment will be the same or even more excellent than the offline one.

In further, Prof. Dwia said that the study program assessment at Unhas did not only encourage and motivate to improve quality at the international level, but it also provided wider opportunities to develop networks and cooperation with other institutions around the world, especially with the higher education in ASEAN countries.

As part of Unhas' accountability, all study programs are currently nationally accredited by both BAN-PT and LAM-PTKes. Now, Unhas has 38 study programs that have been internationally accredited or certified by international institutions such as ABET, ASIIN, ABEST-21, and AUN-QA.

Representing AUN-QA, Prof. Dr. Wyona C. Patalinghug (De La Salle University, Philippines) as the head of the assessor team, through her remarks, expressed her gratitude to Unhas as one of the universities that have a high commitment to quality development and actively provides support for the AUN-QA organization.

Following are the four study programs that will be visited and assessed by AUN-QA listed:

- Undergraduate Program in History Study Program (Faculty of Cultural Sciences)
- Undergraduate Program in Japanese Literature Study Program (Faculty of Cultural Sciences),
- Undergraduate Program in Statistics Study Program (Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences),
- Undergraduate Program in Sociology Study Program (Faculty of Social and Political Sciences) Officer, Thailand)

THE RECTOR OF UNIVERSITAS HASANUDDIN RECEIVES THE VISIT OF THE AMBASSADOR OF AUSTRALIA, READY TO STRENGTHEN EDUCATION PROGRAM

Prof. Dwia Aries Tina Pulubuhu, MA., the Rector of Universitas Hasanuddin (Unhas), received the Ambassador of Australia to Indonesia, Penny Williams. The visit of the Australian Ambassador was accompanied by the Australian Consulate-General in Makassar, Bronwyn Robbins, on Monday (01/11) at the Rector's office, 8th Floor of Rectorate Building Unhas.

During the visit, the Rector of Unhas welcomed the arrival of Penny Williams. According to Prof. Dwia, Unhas and well-known universities in Australia are partners in running education programs.

Student Exchange becomes one of the programs that is enthusiastically participated by students from both countries. Therefore, Prof. Dwia hoped that the Australian Ambassador could provide easy access to students to pursue education in Australia, especially the distribution of scholarship quotas and Letter of Acceptance (LoA) as the official letter to be accepted by the designated university.

On the same occasion, Penny Williams expressed her gratitude for the warm welcome by the Rector of Unhas. He hoped that the relationship could be maintained and strengthened with innovative long-term collaboration.

Moreover, Penny Williams said that Australia expresses its readiness to strengthen its commitment to creating more student exchanges and educational collaboration opportunities. So through the programs, we can provide opportunities to exchange information and explore multiculturalism among the students.

In addition to discussing the collaboration, Unhas addressed the achievements of Unhas as the best university in Indonesia on an international level. The visit ended with the exchange of souvenirs at 11.30 WITA.
