FACULTY OF NURSING LECTURERS PRESENT THEIR PAPER AT THE INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE IN NURSING AT MANILA, THE PHILIPPINES

On April 2, 2023, two lecturers of the Faculty of Nursing of Hasanuddin University (FKep UNHAS), Syahrul, Ph.D and Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D presented their papers at the International Scientific Conference on Nursing in Manila, Philippines. Dr. Masyitha shared her research paper entitled "Health Coaching Intervention to Improve Self-Care Management of Hypertension among Older People In Indonesia: A Randomized Controlled Study Protocol." Dr. Syahrul presented his research entitled "Development of Self-care Practice Components among Pulmonary Tuberculosis Patients in Indonesia."

The international conference was a part of the 75th College of Nursing University of The Philippines (UPCN), Manila's founding anniversary. This conference was attended by alumni of UPCN, which spread across the globe, including Dr. Masyitha, who finished her master's degree in Nursing at UPCN in 2012. In addition to the Philippines participants, other researchers from the USA, Japan, and Indonesia attended the event. The visit to Manila was not only to present research at the international conference but also to join international working groups initiated by UPCN, where UNHAS intends to participate in the future.

FIVE INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN THE 2023 STUDENTS COMPETITION OF THE HOLY QURAN RECITATION OF UNHAS

The 2023 Musabaqah Tilawatil Qur'an Mahasiswa (MTQ-M) or Students Competition of the Holy Quran Recitation was officially opened by the Rector of Hasanuddin University (UNHAS), Prof. Jamaluddin Jompa, M.Sc well known as Prof JJ, on Monday, April 10, 2023, at the ground floor of the Rectorate Building. This MTQ-M is an annual competition held by the Students Affairs of UNHAS during Ramadan when all Moslems observe the whole month. This MTQ-M was also attended by the Vice-Rector for Academic and Students Affairs, fellow Vice Deans of several faculties, and a council of judges.

The chief committee, Dr. Abdullah Sanusi, reported that the number of participants this year was 374 students. Of this number, the students from the Faculty of Cultural Sciences (FIB) reached the highest with 63 students, followed by the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences (FMIPA) with 50 students and the Faculty of Medicine (FK) with 46 students. In addition, Dr. Sanusi explained that this year MTQ-M was followed by five international students participating in several types of competitions such as one student joined five chapters of the holy Quran memorization competition, three students joined the holy Quran recitation and one student participated in a quiz contest on the Quran contents.

In responding to Dr. Sanusi's report, Prof JJ told the Vice-Rector for Academic and Students Affairs to provide category winners to international students who took part in this MTQ-M as this was the first time participated by international students coming from four different countries, namely Palestine, Yemen, Jordan, and Burkina Faso. In addition, Prof. JJ reminded the participants that the context should not be to win trophies but to improve spiritual abilities that can develop their characters that love the holy Quran, their families, the nation, and their country.

WEBINAR "COLLABORATION OPPORTUNITIES AND SCHOLARSHIPS AT SAUDI ARABIAN UNIVERSITIES"

The webinar regarding the collaboration and scholarship opportunities the Vice-Rector held Saudi Arabian Universities for Partnership, Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Business of Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) on Monday, April 10, 2023. The Director of Partnership, the host of the webinar, Dr. Ansariadi, officially opened the webinar. The academic staff from various study programs, including the Department of Mining and Geology of Engineering Faculty (FT) and the Department of Arabic Literature of Cultural Sciences Faculty (FIB), attended this event. In addition, this webinar was presented by Dr. Badrus Sholeh, Indonesian Education and Culture Attache of the Indonesia Embassy in Riyadh, the capital of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA).

In his presentation, Dr. Soleh described the potential of collaboration with Saudi Arabian universities. In the world university ranking, some Saudi Arabian universities range from 100 to 1000. For example, King Abdulaziz is at 106, and King Fahd University of Petroleum and Minerals ranks 160. In the Middle East, there are five universities of Saudi Arabia in the top 50 universities, and King Abdulaziz University is in first place. Dr. Soleh continued his presentation with the opportunity for UNHAS students wishing to do their apprenticeship in Indonesian schools existing in Saudi Arabia. These schools offer a level of education from kindergarten to high school funded by our Ministry of Education and Culture.

Before the closing, Dr. Ansariadi invited Muhammad Ridwan, M.A, the Secretary of the International Office and Faculty member of the Department of Arabic Literature, FIB, as well as Haeruddin, M.A., the Head of the Department of Arabic Literature, to share their participation in the Daurah Shaifiyyah (Summer Course) focusing on Teaching Arabic for Non Arab Speakers at Umm al Qura University in downtown the Holy City Mecca several years ago. With their experience, Attache was aware that UNHAS had already established a program with Saudi Arabian universities.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS SHARING SESSION; HOW TO SPEAK BAHASA EFFECTIVELY AND EFFICIENTLY FOR THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS OF UNHAS

This was the second gathering held during the month of Ramadan. This gathering was on Wednesday, April 11, 2023. The gathering was joined by the Head of Language Service of Hasanuddin University (UNHAS), Herawaty Abbas, Ph.D. and her Secretary, Dr. Indriati Lewa, Taskforce of International Office (IO), Jamaluddin Fitrah Alam, Ph.D. and Rafika Nurul Hamdani Ramli, LL.M, IO staff, and their international students.

The gathering aimed to share our international students' experiences in teaching and learning Indonesian Language, or Bahasa Indonesia untuk Penutur Asing (BIPA)/ Indonesian Language for Non-Indonesia Speakers, which was conducted by UNHAS Language Center (ULC). The gathering began with the welcome remark by Muhammad Ridwan, M.A, on behalf of the IO. In his statement, Ridwan said that all international students were required to be able to speak and practice their Bahasa daily as the language would be used for daily activities, including when dealing with local patients for medical students, for example.

The second remark was from ULC, beginning with Herawaty Abbas, Ph.D., then continued with Dr. Indriati Lewa. In her statement, she emphasized that the international students have had to practice their Bahasa. ULC was widely open for international students wishing to practice their Bahasa with other local students as other students did, like Duua, Mustafa, Louis, and many more.

The main agenda of the gathering was to share the experiences of three different international students. It began with Abdul Azis, an Iraqi student who had been here at UNHAS since 2019. He also encouraged his fellow students to practice their Bahasa more and more. In addition, the second speaker was Mustafa. He also did the same with his fellow students by encouraging them to practice the language. The last speaker was Duua, and she had nothing more to say but to motivate her fellow friends to utilize their Bahasa. Each student was given the same duration of time to share.

UNHAS SECRETARY AND HEAD OF INTERNATIONAL OFFICE VISIT THE INTERNATIONAL CORNERS AT HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY

To follow up on the findings regarding the optimization of the international corners, the Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) Secretary, Prof. Sumbangan Baja, and the representatives of International Office (IO), Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D., and Muhammad Ridwan, M.A. visited the international corners in UNHAS on Friday, April 14, 2023. One Corner was located in UNHAS Library and one in the Language Service. This visit was also joined by the Head of UNHAS Library, Dr. Fierinziana.

The first visit was to German Corner, and the coordinator, Prof. Marianti Manggau, had already been at the Corner welcoming the visitation group. In her explanation, Prof. Marianti described what this Corner had done so far, for example, providing a free German Class for UNHAS students. The second visit was to Korean Corner. In this Corner, the coordinator, Muhammad Syahrum, M.A., welcomed the guests by showing the facilities inside the Corner, such as the multimedia room and reading room, that students may use to study more about Korea.

Next, the visit to Warung Perancis (France Corner). During the visit, Prof. Sumbangan discussed with several students coming to the Corner. The next visit was to China Corner, located on the library's third floor. The coordinator, Ria Djubari, Ph.D., and several Chinese lecturers from Nanchang University welcomed the visitation group. In this room, the guests saw the Chinese class attended by UNHAS students.

The last visit was to Aussie Banget Corner, located in the library and the Language Service Building. Dr. Herawaty Abbas, the coordinator, welcomed the guests and explained the corners. Prof. Sumbangan Baja took a chance to come inside the administration office of Language Service and gave his good impression. During the corner visit, Prof. Sumbangan Baja reminded the coordinators to prepare for the next meeting to discuss International Corners' plans. Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D., also suggested that these corners have to contribute to the UNHAS internationalization program, such as the World University Ranking (WUR).

INTERNATIONAL CHINESE DAY BY MANDARIN LANGUAGE CENTER UNHAS

The Mandarin Language Center UNHAS held an event called 哈大孔院国际中文日活动 (hādà kǒngyuàn guójì zhōngwénrì huódòng) or World Mandarin Day Commemoration by the Mandarin Language Center Hasanuddin University (UNHAS). This event was filled with a series of events, namely the opening by the Master of Ceremony, Li Yuanmei (a foreign lecturer from Nanchang University), followed by an explanation of the history behind the anniversary of Mandarin. Since 2010, the United Nations has determined that April 20 was World Mandarin Day. According to its history, on April 20, there was heavy rain in China, and at that time, Confucius got the inspiration to make the first Chinese characters. This activity was attended by Mandarin Language and Chinese Culture students and the Indonesian Director of the UNHAS Mandarin Language Center, Dr. Ria Jubhari.

This event was then filled with singing together using Chinese songs. Several students participated in this activity. The first song was sung by a 2019 Mandarin and Chinese Culture Study Program (BKMT) student named Dea, with a song called 爱，存在 (Love, Exists), a song belongs to the famous drama called Meteor Garden. Moreover, the event was interspersed with modern dances from the 2020 BMKT Student Reyhan. In addition, one of the foreign Mandarin lecturers, Prof. Wan Wenbin, and several BMKT 2021 students sang a pretty famous song, 童话 (Fairy Tale). At the end of the event, all participants sang together with the song 月亮代表我的心 (The Moon symbolizes My Heart). All participants who attended this activity received several prizes: Chinese chains, hand sanitizers, mirrors, Chinese knitting tools, etc.

Zakat as One of the Pillars of Islam

There are four pillars of Islam: prayer, fasting, zakat, and hajj. Zakat is one of the pillars of Islam. It is a form of worship that involves giving a portion of one's wealth to the poor and needy. Zakat is a mandatory act of worship for all Muslims who are financially able to do so. It is a way of purifying one's wealth and helping those in need. Zakat is also a way of showing gratitude to Allah for His blessings. Zakat is a social justice mechanism that helps to reduce poverty and inequality in society. It is a way of practicing social responsibility and caring for the community. Zakat is a beautiful act of worship that brings joy and fulfillment to the giver and the receiver alike. It is a way of living by the principles of Islam and promoting the well-being of the community.

IISMA CORNER:
CATARINA ELITA AMADEA
IISMA 2021 - UNIVERSIDAD DE GRANADA

IISMA (Indonesian International Student Mobility Awards) is one of the exchange programs from Kampus Merdeka program in which I participated in 2021. I studied at the University of Granada (UGR), Spain, during the program. It became unreplacable three months of euphoria in my life straight away.

My classes were fun and supportive, and I got to be in the same class with other exchange students from the U.S. They asked me to hang out with them and have dinner together where they cooked me "Green Chili Rice," a New Mexico's favorite dish, and the best of all when they bought me some gelatos to celebrate my birthday. Meanwhile, my Indonesian friends (fellow IISMA awardees) decided to surprise me with a prank, and I didn't mind because it was fun :).

At UGR, we had a lot of extra activities we could do despite just going to class every single day. Every weekend, we traveled to other cities in Spain, such as Sevilla, Ronda, and Cordoba. On the other weekend, we had sports activities such as hiking and biking. Sometimes we visited historical places like museums, Alhambra, Cathedral, and Madrasah. If we wanted to add another plan within a week, we also got to manage our schedules. I joined a language gathering in a club that occurred every Tuesdays and Taller de acuarela (an advanced watercolor workshop) in the evening. In the club and workshop, I met new people of more nationalities. I met friends from Germany, Afghanistan, Australia, and Italy. Some of them were lecturers, housewives/husbands, and artists.

After participating in this program, I became more productive and confident, and it gave me opportunities to join more mobility programs.

MEET OUR STUVO: RIZKA RAMLI

Hi, my name is Rizka Ramli, or you can just call me Rizka. Currently in my third year majoring in Japanese Literature Study Program, Faculty of Cultural Sciences (FIB). My role as a STUVO at the International Office (IO) of Hasanuddin University mainly works on illustration as I am passionate about drawing. Moreover, I'm also already busy working as an illustrator and a reporter at the local campus magazine called "Identitas UNHAS". Still, I enjoy working with people at IO and out at IO's office

I like reading comics, playing games, and watching movies. Sometimes I open drawing commissions to get some extra pocket money.
