RECTOR OF HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY

JAMALUDDIN JOMPA

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE MEETS THE INTERNATIONALIZATION TASK FORCE MEMBERS

A task force for internationalization has been established to support the internationalization programs at Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) through the International Office (IO). This task force works under the coordination of the IO. There are 17 members representing the faculties/schools. The first meeting was held on Wednesday, April 3rd, 2024 in the shared meeting room of the Lembaga Sertifikasi Profesi (LSP) or Professional Certification Body and the IO. The meeting aimed at sharpening the members' job descriptions and overview of the programs implemented at the faculty level.

The meeting began with remarks by the UNHAS Secretary, Prof. Ir. Sumbangan Baja, M.Phil., Ph.D. He described how internationalization should work under his coordination. Beside the IO, there are other two units under his coordination focusing on internationalization, the UNHAS International Reputation Directorate and Publication Management Center (PMC) Directorate. These three units work together to achieve UNHAS' world class university goals. Additionally, Prof. Sumbangan also said that UNHAS provides an additional budget to increase outbound oral presentations and exchanges abroad by lecturers, staff and students. Therefore, the task force members should be aware of this and encourage personnel at the faculty level to propose activities to support internationalization. Before leaving, the task force members had a photo session with the UNHAS Secretary.

The meeting continued with a presentation by Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D (Head of IO), popularly called Citha. She explored the IO job description beginning with the new organizational structure then went on to the programs for local and international students including student volunteers, and the international students association. In terms of outbound activities, the IO provides socialization, preparation, interview, pre-departure orientation and re-entry orientation for the Indonesian International Student Mobility Awards (IISMA). The IO also provides assistance in picking up and dropping off faculty level overseas guests. Mrs. Citha ended her presentation by showing data on internationalization planning and programs implemented.

The meeting also enabled all task forces members to present their views and perspectives regarding their job descriptions, beginning with concerns regarding co-funding programs with UNHAS overseas partners. So far, in comparison with the partners, UNHAS has assisted inbound programs with minimal budget contributions. UNHAS might consider that certain programs involving a large number of inbound students could be given larger budgets. In addition, UNHAS should not allocate the same budget as for programs involving a small number of inbound students. There were several other issues raised during the meeting. Mrs. Citha welcomed all these views, perspectives and feedback to strengthen the task force job description. The meeting ended once again with a photo session and the IO invited all members to take a tour of the IO office, as several members were still not familiar with the office.

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE HOLDS A 2024 INDONESIAN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT MOBILITY AWARDS CO-FUNDING INFORMATION SESSION

The International Office (IO), Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) held an Indonesian International Student Mobility Awards (IISMA) Co-funding Socialization event on Tuesday April 2nd, 2024 from 1pm Central Indonesia Time (CIT) at Lembaga Penelitian dan Pengabdian Masyarakat (LPPM) or the Institute of Research and Community Services Hall. The event was officially opened by Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D (Head of IO) and was joined by a number of prospective students. The event was also joined by IO team members including Muhammad Ridwan, M.A. (Secretary of IO), IO Task Force members such as Saaduddin, M.Sc., and Haniek Khoirunnissa, M.Sc as well as IO staff and several IO student volunteers. The event was moderated by Khaeruddin, Ph.D (IO Task Force).

The event began with the brief explanation of IISMA Co-funding by Mrs. Masyitha. In her slides, she described the background of IISMA and the requirements. The next session was an explanation about the application form by Kumara Tungga Dewa, S.S., (IO Staff). He described the forms obtained from the IISMA website. Prof. drg. Muhammad Ruslin, M.Kes., Ph.D., Sp.BM(K) (Vice Rector for Academic and Students Affairs) arrived in the middle of Mr. Dewa's presentation, and delivered his welcome remarks. Prof. Ruslin encouraged the prospective students to register for IISMA. He said that costs that would be incurred during the IISMA program were small compared with the golden experiences gained during the program. He also suggested having an interactive meeting with students' parents to discuss this opportunity. The output of the meeting would identify the best way to go through the application process, if needed. Ending his opening remarks, Prof. Ruslin joined a photo session with IO staff and participating students.

The last session prior to the question and answer session was a presentation on lessons learned by an IISMA Co-funding awardee named Aliyyah Ansariadi, a student from the Faculty of Public Health (FKM) studying at the Michigan State University (MSU), United States of America. She started with her experiences when dealing with the application. She said that there was a difference between last year and this year's application. Last year, to register for IISMA Co-funding, the student must have registered for the regular IISMA. In 2024, students could apply even if they did not register for the regular one. She continued her explanations by saying that other procedures were exactly the same as the regular IISMA.

Before the event ended, the session continued with the Question and Answer (Q&A). One of the questions posed by a participant was regarding the credit earned abroad and was it recognized by UNHAS. Ms. Aliyyah answered that the students had to discuss the issue of credit recognition prior to departure in order to ensure that on their return the students would not have to retake the courses missed during the program. Another question was about essay composition, and whether it was different from the essay when applying to the regular IISMA. Ms. Aliyyah continued by saying that she had to elaborate her essay to adjust it to the choice of a new host university, but that was not much. The participants seemed to be attracted by the session. However, due to the time limit, the moderator had to close the session. The IO would notify and keep in touch with the prospective students wishing to take part in this co-funding scheme. Good luck fellas!

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN THE 2024 QURANIC RECITATION COMPETITION

As an activity to celebrate the holy month of Ramadan, the Directorate of Student Affairs (DSA) of Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) holds a Musabaqah Tilawatil Qur'an (MTQ) or Qur'anic Recitation Competition for UNHAS students. This MTQ was held from April 1st-3rd, 2024, and was officially opened by Prof. drg. Muhammad Ruslin, M.Kes., Ph.D., Sp.BM(K) (Vice Rector for Academic and Students Affairs) in the UNHAS Rectorate Building. Joining the opening were Abdullah Sanusi, Ph.D., (Director of Students Affairs), several Vice Deans for Academic and Student Affairs, Dr. Suhasman (Head of Sud-Directorate for Student Achievement and Talent), participating students, and many others.

Dr. Suhasman in his report said that there were 319 registrants from 16 faculties taking part in this year's MTQ. There are three competition locations and it will last for three days," he said. Among the 182 participants, there were three international students from the Faculty of Medicine (FK).

Meanwhile, in his speech Prof Ruslin said that UNHAS was not only trying to increase scientific and academic capacity, but also religious capacity by holding the MTQ. "There are 13 types of competition which, Insha Allah, will provide insight for UNHAS students and are not just competitions, but hopefully can increase our devotion to Allah," he said.

On this occasion, Prof. Ruslin reiterated that UNHAS accepts new students on the tahfiz or memorizing the Al-Qur'an admission scheme, through the Achievement, Sports, Arts and Science pathway.

Regarding the participation of international students in this year's MTQ, Mr. Sanusi, who was contacted via WhatsApp, expressed his positive appreciation by saying, " Overall good, thanks for the participation. We expect more participants for next year's MTQ. Furthermore, the IO also agreed with the Director of Student Affairs regarding international student participation and hoped that more would participate in the coming year.

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE HOLDS THE 2ND FRIDAY OUTBOUND CLINIC

The International Office (IO) of Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) held the 2nd Friday Outbound Clinic (FOC). This weekly program aims to provide information related to the outbound programs offered by the university. The facilitator Khaeruddin, Ph.D., who prefers to be called Heru, welcomed all participants through the Zoom platform and encouraged them to pose questions. The moderator, Saaduddin, M.Sc., handled the event smoothly.

As this was the 2nd clinic, the number of participants increased compared to the previous Friday clinic. One of the participants questioned the mechanism for proposals to take part in the outbound programs. Mr. Heru said that the IO had support from Task Force (TF) members in each faculty. Through the TF, a student or a member of the faculty or staff could submit proposals and the Rectorate would follow up through the IO, for instance regarding visa arrangements. As moderator, Mr. Saaduddin said that UNHAS has a budget provision for students doing outbound programs abroad, for instance presenting papers orally or for any other exchange program. The clinic was officially closed at 2 pm Central Indonesia Time (CIT). Mr. Heru encouraged the current audience to share this event with their classmates so that there might be more participants at the next clinic. Mr. Saaduddin thanked all participants and left the meeting.

HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY SOCIALIZATION ON THE USAGE OF SAGE JOURNALS AND SAGE RESEARCH METHODS

Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) Library held a socialization session on the usage of SAGE Journals and Research Methods. This socialization was held both offline and online through Zoom on Wednesday, April 13th, 2024. The socialization was presented by Mutiara Choiriyah (SAGE Library Sales for Indonesia, Vietnam and the Philippines). The event was officially opened by Prof. drg. Muhammad Ruslin, M.Kes., Ph.D., Sp.BM (K) (Vice Rector for Academic and Students Affairs) and was also joined by Dr. Fierenziana G. Junus, M.Hum (Head of UNHAS Library), Ansar Saud (Secretary of UNHAS Library), and other UNHAS staff.

In his remarks, Prof. Ruslin said: "To produce quality scientific work, reading materials or articles from qualified journals are also needed." Meanwhile, after UNHAS subscribed to ScienceDirect from Elsevier, UNHAS academics could also access SAGE Journals and SAGE Research Methods until the end of June 2024. Dr. Fierenz also said, this year there would be three world-leading databases that could be accessed by the UNHAS academic community, namely ScienceDirect, SAGE, and EBSCO.

Furthermore, in her presentation, Ms Mutiara said that a better research output would have an impact on the campus' reputation and higher ranking. This higher reputation would bring the campus higher research grants and more resources from increased student applications. These two things would in turn have an impact on better research outcomes and a higher campus reputation and ranking. It is at this point that SAGE Journals and SAGE Research Methods are present to contribute to improving better research outcomes.

The good news is that UNHAS has the opportunity to get trial access to these two resources from March to June 2024. This is a valuable opportunity for the UNHAS academic community which must be utilized as well as possible.

To get further information, please visit the UNHAS Library page at library.unhas.ac.id or the UNHAS Library Instagram at @unhas_library or contact the UNHAS librarian at the library or reading room in each faculty. With the support of these two quality resources, UNHAS students and lecturers as platform users would also be able to produce high quality research. This would have an impact on UNHAS' higher ranking and reputation in the future

HOLDING A PUBLIC LECTURE, HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY FACULTY OF LAW PRESENTS THE DEAN OF THE FACULTY OF LAW, UNIVERSIDADE DA PAZ, TIMOR LESTE

In the context of the 72nd Anniversary of the Faculty of Law (FH) at Hasanuddin University (UNHAS), once again the FH held a public lecture with the theme "Local Wisdom in improving tourism". The lecture was presented by Mr. Dr. Leonito Riberio, S.H., M.H. (Dean of the Faculty of Law, Universidade da Paz, Timor Leste) and moderated by Mrs. Fadilla Jamila S.H., LL.M from the UNHAS Civil Law Department. This hybrid activity took place in the Video Conference Room and was officially opened by the chairman of the Quality Assurance and Reputation Improvement Group, Dr. Winner Sitorus, S.H., M.H., LL.M.

In his speech, Dr. Winner Sitorus said, "Thank you to Dr. Leonito Riberio for your willingness to give a public lecture for Faculty of Law students." Mr. Winner also said that the theme raised was very interesting because it could give us all ideas regarding how to improve the tourism sector for progress towards increasing the national and international potential of a region, and of course this will influence the progress of a country, so that "This is important for us to look at together".

The material presented by Mr. Dr. Leonito Riberio, S.H., M.H. specifically discussed investment in developing tourist attractions in Timor Leste as sustainable development efforts. "Utilization of tourist attractions for a region or even a country because tourist attractions are one component of community empowerment in the economic sector. So it will indirectly have an impact on the daily income of local communities through activities that have traditional artistic characteristics to attract tourists, both domestic and foreign," he said.

Furthermore, as a resource person, he also said that developing the tourism sector itself has become the best choice for regions that have great potential, such as that of the country of Timor Leste. As this sector developed, huge impacts have been affecting the region, especially in promoting development and creating job opportunities, and it can provide local information from interactions with foreign tourists.

Apart from that, the development of the tourism sector has been a priority in National policy until 2023, in particular emphasising the development of the tourism sector as a manifestation of National identity.

This public lecture was attended offline by 80 students and around 33 students online. During the discussion or question and answer session, the students were also very proactive in asking questions and interacting with the resource person. At the end of the material, Dr. Riberio said that every country definitely has its own challenges or obstacles in efforts to improve the tourism sector. One of the obstacles faced in developing tourist areas in Timor-Leste cities is the current weakness in tourism promotion because it still tends to be ceremonial and only part of the work routine.

For this reason, to face and overcome these obstacles requires cooperation from various sectors, starting from the government, related agencies and also the community. This activity closed with the virtual presentation of a certificate of appreciation to Mr. Dr. Leonito Riberio, S.H., M.H as resource person.

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE HOLDS A SERIES OF ROADSHOW ON VISA MANAGEMENT FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS AND RESEARCHERS (PART 2)

The International Office (IO) continued the roadshow series on Visa Arrangements for Foreign Students and Researchers. This began with the Faculty of Cultural Sciences (FIB) as a host, while other academic community members were invited from the Faculty of Law (FH), Faculty of Economics and Business (FEB), and Faculty of Social and Political Sciences (FISIP). The roadshow was held on Monday, April 22nd, 2024 in the Mattulada Hall, FIB. The roadshow was moderated by Dr. Karmila Mokoginta M.A. from the FIB Internationalization Program Task Force.

The roadshow started with welcoming remarks by Andi Masyitha Irwan, Ph.D (Head of IO). In her remarks Ms Masyitha, nicknamed Citha, said that the reason for this roadshow was a new structure at the university level. Previously, the section in charge of visa arrangements was the Foreign Cooperation Bureau, led by Ms. Harniati Hamid. As this bureau was merged with the IO, the roadshow was urgently needed. Ms. Citha continued with a talk that included some updates in the immigration regulations regarding visa arrangements. Therefore, this roadshow brought benefits to the academic communities from four different faculties.

Meanwhile, the Dean of FIB was represented by the Vice Dean, Dr. Mardi Ardi Armin, M.Hum, to present opening remarks. He said that he had known Ms. Harniati, commonly called Ms. Arni, for a long time. He expected that this roadshow would certainly bring lots of benefits to the academic community. Mr Mardi ended his opening remarks and the event continued with a photo session with all the academic community members present.

In this part #2 series, the second roadshow was held on Tuesday, April 23rd, 2024, from 1-3 pm CIT in the Sciences Building, Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences (MIPA). The academic communities of the Faculty of Vocational Study (Vokasi), the Graduate School (Pascasarjana) as well as MIPA were invited to this roadshow. The roadshow started with welcoming remarks from the IO represented by Muhammad Ridwan, M.A. (IO Secretary), with Andi Muhammad Pramatiadie, S.T, M.Eng, Ph.D as the moderator. The Dean Dr. Amiruddin, who also delivered opening remarks, hoped that the roadshow would bring lots of benefit to all academic communities.

The last roadshow session was held for the Faculty of Engineering (FT) academic community. This roadshow was held on Wednesday, April 24th, 2024 from 1-3pm CIT in the FT Exhibition Hall. The roadshow began with welcoming remarks by Muhammad Ridwan, M.A (IO Secretary) followed by opening remarks from the Dean of FT, represented by Prof. Dr. Ir. Rustan Tarakka, S.T., M.T. (Vice Dean for Partnership, Research and Innovation). In his remarks, Prof. Rustan extended his gratitude for the arrival of the IO Team coming from Tamalanrea Campus all the way down to Gowa Campus. This roadshow was considered important as FT has already welcomed inbound students and lecturers many times. He also appreciated the information gained from this roadshow, especially the opportunity to obtain funds to support both inbound and outbound activities. The official opening was followed by a photo session.

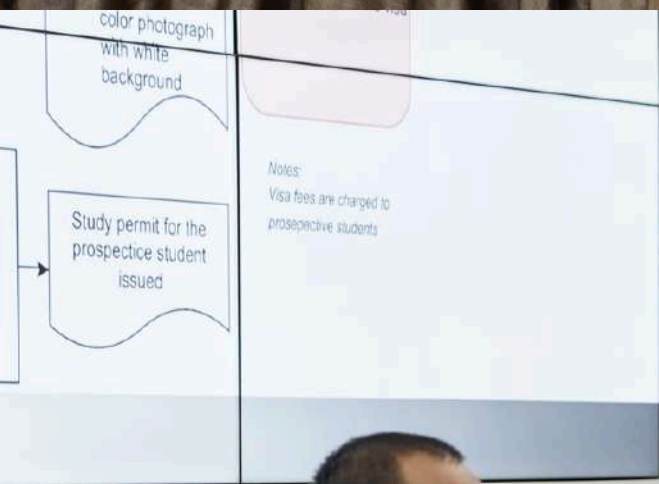

The main topic of the roadshow was the presentation of visa arrangements, starting with the FIB then going to MIPA and to the FT. The IO assigned two resource persons: Dra. Harniati (Head of Foreign Cooperation) and Saaduddin, M.Sc (IO Task Force). The roadshow at the FT was the culmination of the roadshow series related to visa arrangement socialization. The IO expressed its highest appreciation to all parties involved, including all the Deans, Vice Deans, Internationalization Task Force team members, lecturers, and researchers who attended. The IO hopes this roadshow will provide benefits for improving the quality of our inbound student and researcher visits through visa arrangements.

HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY HOLDS A PUBLIC LECTURE BY THE CHAIR OF JAPAN INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AGENCY

On April 24th, 2024, the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) Chair Lecture Series in Indonesia was successfully held at Hasanuddin University (UNHAS), in the Prof. Latanro Hall, Faculty of Economic and Business (FEB). On this occasion, the JICA Chair Lecture was presented by Professor Aizawa Nobuhiro from Kyushu University, Japan, an Indonesianist who is one of the editors of the book entitled Standing Firm for Indonesia's Democracy: An Oral History of President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono. He presented a lecture entitled, 'From Japan and Asia' to 'Japan in Asia' accompanied by Meta Puji Astuti, PhD., coordinator of the Japan Corner and lecturer at the Faculty of Cultural Sciences, as moderator. The event started with opening remarks by Dr. Muhamad Niswar, representing the Vice Rector IV UNHAS, Prof. Adi Maulana, who also opened the event.

This Public Lecture began with an interesting question by Prof. Aizawa, "Does Japan need to become a member of ASEAN?". In this lecture, Prof. Aizawa provided many new insights into Japan's relations with ASEAN which were quite question-provoking. As one example, the increasing number of Japanese living in ASEAN. Another example is that Japanese anime has been used to symbolize promotions and political movements in Indonesia and Thailand; e.g., Gibran Rakabuming, Indonesia's Vice President-elect used Naruto's symbols and clothing in his campaign. Thailand chose Hamtaro as a symbol of resistance to corruption.

Furthermore, this lecture also explains how Japan feels it has a closer emotional relationship with ASEAN, closer than with other countries. For instance, the amount of Japanese Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) interest in ASEAN, and the friendly relationship between Japanese leaders and ASEAN. In fact, the new Japanese emperor, Emperor Naruhito, chose to make his first overseas visit to ASEAN, rather than to other regions.

However, in reality, there is a new fact and phenomenon; at a time when Japan is in a declining economic situation, Japan needs a "new alliance" for mutual help, raising the question "Is that ASEAN?". It is unavoidable that, in Japan's current Aging Society situation, Japan needs the presence of the younger generation from other countries, especially from Indonesia and Southeast Asia. Therefore, it is necessary to think about Japan's policies to face the changing situation in cooperative relations between the two parties, whether from ASEAN or Japan.

This event was attended by about 150 audiences and they were mostly students from the Faculty of Social Sciences (FISIP) and the Faculty of Cultural Sciences (FIB), and lecturers from several faculties. Students were enthusiastic in the question session, asking various interesting and sharp questions. Among the questions were, "Are there political and immigration guarantees and protections for migrant workers from Indonesia?" "Is this "joint alliance" similar to Japanese propaganda slogans of the past?" There was even an interesting question, "Does Makassar need to be a sister city with a city in Japan?" Professor Aizawa was very happy with the interaction and sharp thinking of UNHAS students. At the end of the event, he said that cooperation between Japan and ASEAN was very crucial and he really hoped that Indonesian youth could be present in Japan to directly improve cooperation between Indonesia and Japan in the future. This very interesting and dynamic international collaboration event was held in collaboration with close cooperation between the JICA Jakarta office and UNHAS.

THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE HOLDS A MONTHLY EVENT "GEOGRAPHY SERIES FEATURING THE ISLAMIC EMIRATES OF AFGHANISTAN"

As a medium to mingle our international and local students as well as other academic communities, the International Office (IO), Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) holds a monthly event called Geography Series (G-Series) in which the international student introduces his/her country of origin through a PowerPoint presentation. This G-Series was held on Thursday, April 25th, 2024, from 2pm Central Indonesia Time (CIT) in the Prof. La Tanro Hall, Faculty of Economics and Business (FEB). Our Afghani student, Shahabuddin Esmati, commonly called Shahab, a recipient of Kemitraan Negara Berkembang (KNB) or Scholarship for Developing Countries, was the presenter and the event was moderated by an IO Intern, Muh. Anugrah.

As usual, our international students began the presentation with the national anthem and then continued with statistical data including population, number of states, etc. Mr. Shahab also presented his country's marriage system, traditional clothes, dances and the seasons. HASANUDDIN UNIVERSITY EXPLORES COLLABORATION WITH MANIWA CITY AND THE MAKASSAR CITY GOVERNMENT IN THE CITY-TO-CITY COLLABORATION FOR ZERO CARBON SOCIETY PROGRAM

Garbage is a major problem in every city throughout the world. In Makassar itself, there are several efforts to reduce waste, such as regulations on reducing plastic bags, partitioning waste according to type, processing waste into organic fertilizer, and several other activities. This means Makassar can be considered quite representative of several pilot environmental projects in Indonesia, especially in the eastern part of Indonesia, so Maniwa City (Japan) chose Makassar (Indonesia) to be a partner in the city-to-city project. This development was integrated with the role of higher education as an important part of planning, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation. Therefore, Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) was seen as a worthy collaborator for the city to city-based waste management projects.

This activity started with a visit and survey of UNHAS preparations on April 24th, 2024. The activity began with the reception of the Maniwa city team by Prof. Ir. Sumbangan Baja M.Phil, Ph.D (UNHAS Secretary). The team from Maniwa City consisted of 8 people and was chaired by Hitoho Maki (Chairman of the Board of Directors Business Promotion Subcommittee of the Nationwide General Waste Environmental Improvement Cooperative Association). After the reception, the activity continued with a campus tour to 4 locations ; UNHAS Waste Bank, Water Purification, Student Dormitory, and UNHAS Hospital waste processing sites. Consequently, during the visit there were discussions on several matters and agreements related to the follow-up of future cooperation, especially in technology transfer related to waste processing management. The site visit was facilitated by an UNHAS resource person, Prof. Dr. Ir. Dorothea Agnes Rampisela, M.Sc. It is hoped that this technology transfer can increase the effectiveness of waste processing at UNHAS so that UNHAS could become a benchmark in processing these types of waste.

The planning of this project was designed to focus on knowledge sharing: meaning sharing best practices and expertise related to decarbonization initiatives, including biomass resources utilization. Next was joint research and development, meaning collaborating on research and development projects to advance decarbonization technologies and solutions. In addition, capacity building means providing training and capacity-building programs on decarbonization strategies for stakeholders in Makassar City. Lastly, project development means developing and implementing pilot projects in Makassar City using Maniwa City's "Regional Circular and Ecological Sphere" model.

THE DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE CONDUCTS FIELD WORK IN BANGKOK, THAILAND

From April 22nd to 29th, 2024, a group of 29 students and 4 lecturers from the Department of Architecture, Faculty of Engineering (FT), Hasanuddin University (UNHAS) embarked on the Kuliah Kerja Lapangan (KKL) or Field Work 2024 under the Thailand Architecture program in Bangkok. The field work was supervised by four lecturers including Prof. Dr. Ir. Triyatni Martosenjoyo, M.Si., Dr. Eng. Ir. Nasruddin, ST., M.T., Dr. Ir. Syahriana Syam, ST., M.T., and Dr. Ir. Hj. Nurul Nadjmi, ST., M.T. This week-long educational trip allowed the group to experience and study some of Thailand's most significant architectural sites first-hand. The first destination was the incredible Sanctuary of Truth in Pattaya. This massive wood carving and temple complex has been an ongoing construction project since 1981 based on traditional Thai architecture styles. The intricately carved wood sculptures depicting Hindu and Buddhist tales were awe-inspiring when seen up close.

Moreover, in Bangkok, the group toured the Queen Sirikit National Convention Center, a prime example of contemporary Thai architecture. The center's circular design skillfully blends modern materials like steel and glass with traditional elements like water features and integrated greenery. The group continued to visit another immense architectural marvel, the King Power Duty Free Complex. This massive upscale shopping and lifestyle destination integrates Thai design inspirations with innovative modern architecture.

The open, multi-level layout seamlessly brings the outdoors inside. Next, the group also studied the classic Thai residential architecture of the Jim Thompson House compound. These preserved teak wood houses from the 18th and 19th centuries showcase intricate carving, open air ventilation design, and seamless integration with lush gardens.

This program gave the group unparalleled opportunities to experience Thailand's architectural heritage and modern innovations up close. Each site highlighted different aspects of Thai design philosophy, craftsmanship, and the ability to harmonize with the natural environment. The group gained valuable insights into traditional construction techniques, contemporary adaptations, and cultural influences. The immersive, in-person learning about Thai architecture on this program greatly enriched the group member's understanding beyond what could be learned in a classroom. The group returned with a deeper appreciation for Thailand's architectural mastery spanning centuries.
